CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT FOR THE ON-CAMERA ACTOR

Actor, Producer, Coach & Film Director, PRICE HALL (ARTISTS DIE BEST IN BLACK, starring Malcolm McDowell & Luke Goss), and Actor, Producer & Coach, CINDY HOGAN (numerous feature films & TV shows, '96 & '97 SAG-AFTRA Member of the Year, 2010 Coastie Award for Best Workshop of the Year), offer one of the most unique opportunities for the On-Camera Actor to explore and connect to a way to bring any Character to LIFE, fully, and have them live BELIEVABLY, in front of the camera.

Characters are human beings. They have a biography and a biology. Just like you, they have opinions, vanities, fears, and aims in life. By working on a character intensely, the actor discovers their strengths and weaknesses in the reality of the character's environment.

PLUS A FREE 30-MINUTE
Refer-A-Friend
Career/Craft Consultation!

This Workshop is a Workout for the Actor wanting to master techniques and a specific approach for Creating a Character... any Character you choose to Create. The Character Development Guide (issued prior to the Workshop) will help you explore and build your Character from the ground, up. Go to a restaurant they would frequent. Or go shopping as that Character, pick out what they'd wear, and come to the Workshop in those clothes. We'll explore them physically, emotionally and mentally. And then we'll put them in a scene, directed for the camera, and see just how truthful they truly are.

This Workshop integrates technical skills and broad based craft skills, giving the actor an opportunity to improve their craft through directed performance. Gain insights into the craft as you intensely delve into the development of a well-crafted character.

Young Actors!

Discover your abilities, practice and develop them, and then have the opportunity to demonstrate them in a scene directed for the camera. This will be a fun-filled day of learning through improvisation, scripted scenes and exercises!
